To Whom It May Concern:

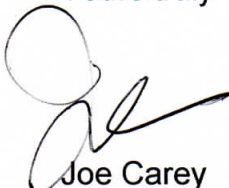

I have used the services of W J Miscampbell for the past ten years or so in preparing my accounts, handling my PAYE for staff and submitting my tax returns.

I have always found them to be courteous, efficient and above all, on time when it came to meeting the all important deadlines. They have worked under pressure at times and have always delivered the result I needed.

As a financial advisor, I have referred a number of my own clients to them and their experience has confirmed mine. This is particularly true for those who have previously been with larger and more expensive firms.

I have no hesitation in recommending W J Miscampbell for all your accounting and taxation needs – large or small, they can deliver for you.

Yours truly
